Question: Q: All mac mail troubleshooting instructions tell me to open Mail>Preferences>Accounts, but I only get a blank account window, even though I have mail accounts with Google and Earthlink. My internet works, but my Mail stopped arriving and sending it two days ago. How do I get around this blockade? By clicking on the point next to the main box (earthlink) says that an SSL error has occurred and that a secure connection to the server cannot be made. Earthlick's rep studied it for an hour and said it was a mac mail error. In addition to the Gmail mailbox, the exclamation point message is lmap.gmail.com on default ports that are timed off. In internet accounts: The Mindspring account itself does not disclose links to all apps, as well as a Google Account, but displays a window with a description of the email address (name/password) and an advanced window with pop.mindspring.com, followed by an empty window for the path prefix. I don't know if the empty window is significant. But there's obviously something missing with this account, compared to another. The problem is that Mail>Preferences>Account displays an empty window. There are no email accounts listed there (although I have two, gmail and one that I use, mindspring. Other instructions for deleting and adding seem to cause me to lose all previous emails in and they are not saved in my web mail. Also, I was in Team Viewer with Earthlink for over an hour, and they couldn't detect the problem, and they said it was a problem with Mac Mail. Mail Connection Doctor says (for Mindspring/POP, it could not connect to this POP server. Check your network connection and that you've entered the correct information into your account settings (I can't even access your account preferences). It also writes (for smtpauth.earthlink/SMTP) It could not connect to this SMTP server. Check your network connection and that you have entered the correct information in your account settings (which, again, I can't even access). By the way, Mail Connection Doctor says my google account connection and login (IMAP) have worked. When I restarted in safe mode, my email caught up with 10. (It's a small opening hours on June 16). I don't know what caused the dilemma, but your solution bypassed me! Thank you! If I turn off and restart normally (without SAFE MODE), the same problem persists. I do not know if this is relevant or not, but the application, Similar Photo Cleaner, which I have never searched for and never consciously downloaded, appears across the screen as soon as I open the computer and I have to close it twice. I thought I'd destroyed it and emptied the trash! It does not exist in safe mode. But from safe mode, it's BACK! Also, whether I'm in SAFE MODE or not, my WiFi keeps network (approximately every 3 seconds), although my network is clearly selected. It stalls all the work on the Internet. These are all new problems from 10 June I used my iPhone as a hot spot while I was out of town. I'm just saying there's a connection to this incas. I don't know if I can stay in safe mode forever..... Help! When I restarted the computer, I received all my emails and the connectivity looks like it will continue - holding my fingers crossed. Thank you so much for your help! Thanks ChrisLL By the way, I have a separate question that I wrote before I saw this. So I haven't been able to read anything about my mail accounts in order to fix what went wrong. ??? When I opened this time, not using SafeMode, it seems to me that I got rid of the unwanted application. I immediately tried to send myself an email, and yet it went to outbox. And my WiFi is still searching for networks three seconds. What is it now? Now? follow your suggestion and contact Apple Support. June 19, 2019 2:51 PM Response useful thread - more options
